"The Curious Savage"

The Senior Class of 1971 presented "The Curious Savage," by John Patrick, as their class play. The play is about a mother whose stepchildren attempt to have her permantely committed to an insane asylum so that they can have control over their deceased father's fortune. Although Mrs. Savage finally manages to convince the doctors she is quite sane, she is sorry to leave the asylum where she has found more truth and love than in the outside world with her stepchildren. The drama is moving as well as humorous.

Pat Welch did an excellent job of assisting Mr. Wehner as student director. The set was constructed by Mr. Grossman and members of the senior class. All those who participated were proud of a job well done.

"Love, For All We Know"

The theme of the 1971 Junior Prom was "Love For All We Know." The EHS gym became a dreamland garden with white picket fences, trellises and flowers, decorated in violet and lavender. The girls on court carried baskets of mums and baby roses. Reigning over the prom were Queen Kathy Paulsen and King Bob Harris. The prom was followed by a post-prom party sponsored by the VFW. The following day was taken up with picnics and talking over the night before. It was a memorable evening for all involved.

King and Queen lead the way.

"Larry you're stepping on my toe again."

Class of 1971

Dear Richard -
I've come to look forward to your everyday. I think I'll miss it next year. You've been a good friend and a help. Thank you for being such a good listener with my problems. Next year you'll be in a different world. I wish you will fell your self in whatever else is Elkhorn, and whatever you come back to see me you're famous or something. Come and visit me sometimes. I really, I mean it. Good Luck & Success whole happiness dreams. But someday when you're famous or something don't forget me again,

Love,
Wendy

Richard
Best of luck to a friend. I really am glad you helped me so many time with my Physics! These years have been great and I am sure they are only an indication of the the things to come.
Goodluck and best wishes always.
Jane Vanderslice

There is so much to say and so much that can't be said but I'll try anyway. I guess I should start with Prom. [redacted] Prom really has no meaning unless you can be with someone you really like. To share it with someone you like so well really puts a special meaning into it. I'd like to thank you for putting that special meaning in it. I wouldn't want to change one minute of it. Ever since Prom I've been telling myself that no one deserves to be so happy. I'm still telling myself that. I am very happy. It doesn't seem possible that 2 months ago we hardly knew each other. You do mean an awful lot to me - more than I realize. I guess it shows in all the little things that seem so unimportant. Little things like waiting for the phone to ring or lunch and even the classes. I don't want you to think that I like you any less or feel any less for you because we can't go out as much as I'd like to. My feelings go much deeper than that?

You seem to have the impression that it was your fault that Curt & Claire ended up this way. You really shouldn't think that. Do you remember that night at the library. Claire felt like she just lost her last friend. You did an awful lot for her. You have a special talent for making people feel better. I know you've tried awfully hard to help those two and you have. Don't ever think you've hurt them. I'm sure they respect that special talent. They just need someone to blame their own misunderstandings on and you happen to be the victim.

So now you're a Senior and in 2 weeks and

2 days you'll graduate. It really won't be the same when you're gone. Don't ask how much I hate to see that day come. But the summer is 3 mos long — that's the future — we have to live each day as it comes (remember the letter.) Thank you for being so wonderful. ☺ Happy Day

Love,
Jan

Hi Richard,
I know that I shouldn't even be near this page beacuz it's so humble and all but I like this page! I'm glad that you and Jo(ean) got along so great. And remember my back seat is almost always available so just holler! It's been great serving under you as assistant editor of the ELKHORN! Hope to see you lots this summer - we have to go to the outdoor again - after all I have to get my thrills sometime if I'm not going with anyone! Good luck next year - with your brains and Jan's encouragement?? You're sure to go far! (Don't take that last statement too wrong!) HAHA!
Love for always

MR. DAVID ROSS, SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

I confidently believe that the present generation of high school students will demonstrate for all to see what responsibility in democracy is.

The radicals of the high school graduates of the last ten years have created anarchy and chaos to such a degree both on and off our nation's campuses that many have questioned whether or not education (and other of society's institutions) will survive the seventies. The cause of this threat to our way of life has been the majority's inaction as much as the radical minority's action.

I believe the high school graduates of this year and the years to come will not allow their rights and opportunities to be pushed aside by the radical few. With these new graduates responsibility in democracy will take on new meaning.

Adult generations hopefully wait for such a new youth to point the way to freedom with responsibility and thus avoid the drift toward a police state. To the high school youth of today—may yours be the honor of demonstrating responsibility in democracy.

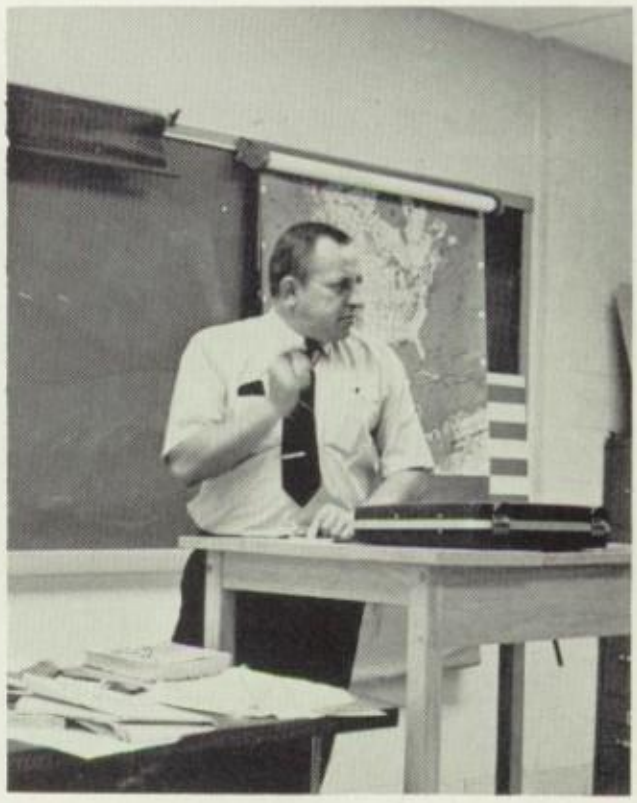
TEACHERS



The Art Department offers many different types of courses, ranging from Art Principles and Practice to Advanced Art, and covering a full year curriculum for its many students. Courses are offered for those with a casual interest in art and also for those who have serious thoughts about an art career.

A large selection of English courses offered this year, opened new doors of learning for many students. The Freshman and Sophomore classes had the benefit of team teaching along with the availability of College-Prep English. Juniors and Seniors spent many busy hours with the wide selection of courses offered them. The English Department had a very successful year for both students and the fine staff of teachers.

Dear One —
I wish you every happiness —
Enjoyed having you in class
this year! J Wehner

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT: HEIDI KNIGHT, ROGER MERSON, MARILYN FISCHER, JAMES WEHNER, PATRICIA WRZESINSKI, TERRENCE THOMPSON.

ART DEPARTMENT: JEAN MILLER

MUSIC DEPARTMENT: ORLAN ANDERSON, RALPH HUGHES.

Musical talents at EHS abound, but it is through the assistance of Mr. Hughes and Mr. Anderson that these talents are brought to the full scope of musical perfection.

Each year EHS enjoys three fine concerts: Christmas, Mid-Winter, and Spring. But these are not the only times in which musical talents are displayed. The band entertains for many school activities throughout the year. Both the chorus and the band compete in various musical contests, bringing back to EHS more musical laurels each year.

Latin and Spanish are the two foreign languages offered at EHS. Through these classes, students are able to increase their insight into the people of our worlds and are able to relate directly to them with language. The foreign language instructors have worked hard to bring to EHS a better understanding of the world through communications. This is a very vital part of world peace.

Through the language lab and other implements necessary to the instruction of a foreign tongue, these teachers have helped bring about a closer harmony with our world neighbors. They have opened the important door of language.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT: MICHAEL CHASE, MICHAEL HENSEN.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT: DALE LIUM, LEONARD HAGER, GERALD NETTESHEIM, WILLIAM KING.

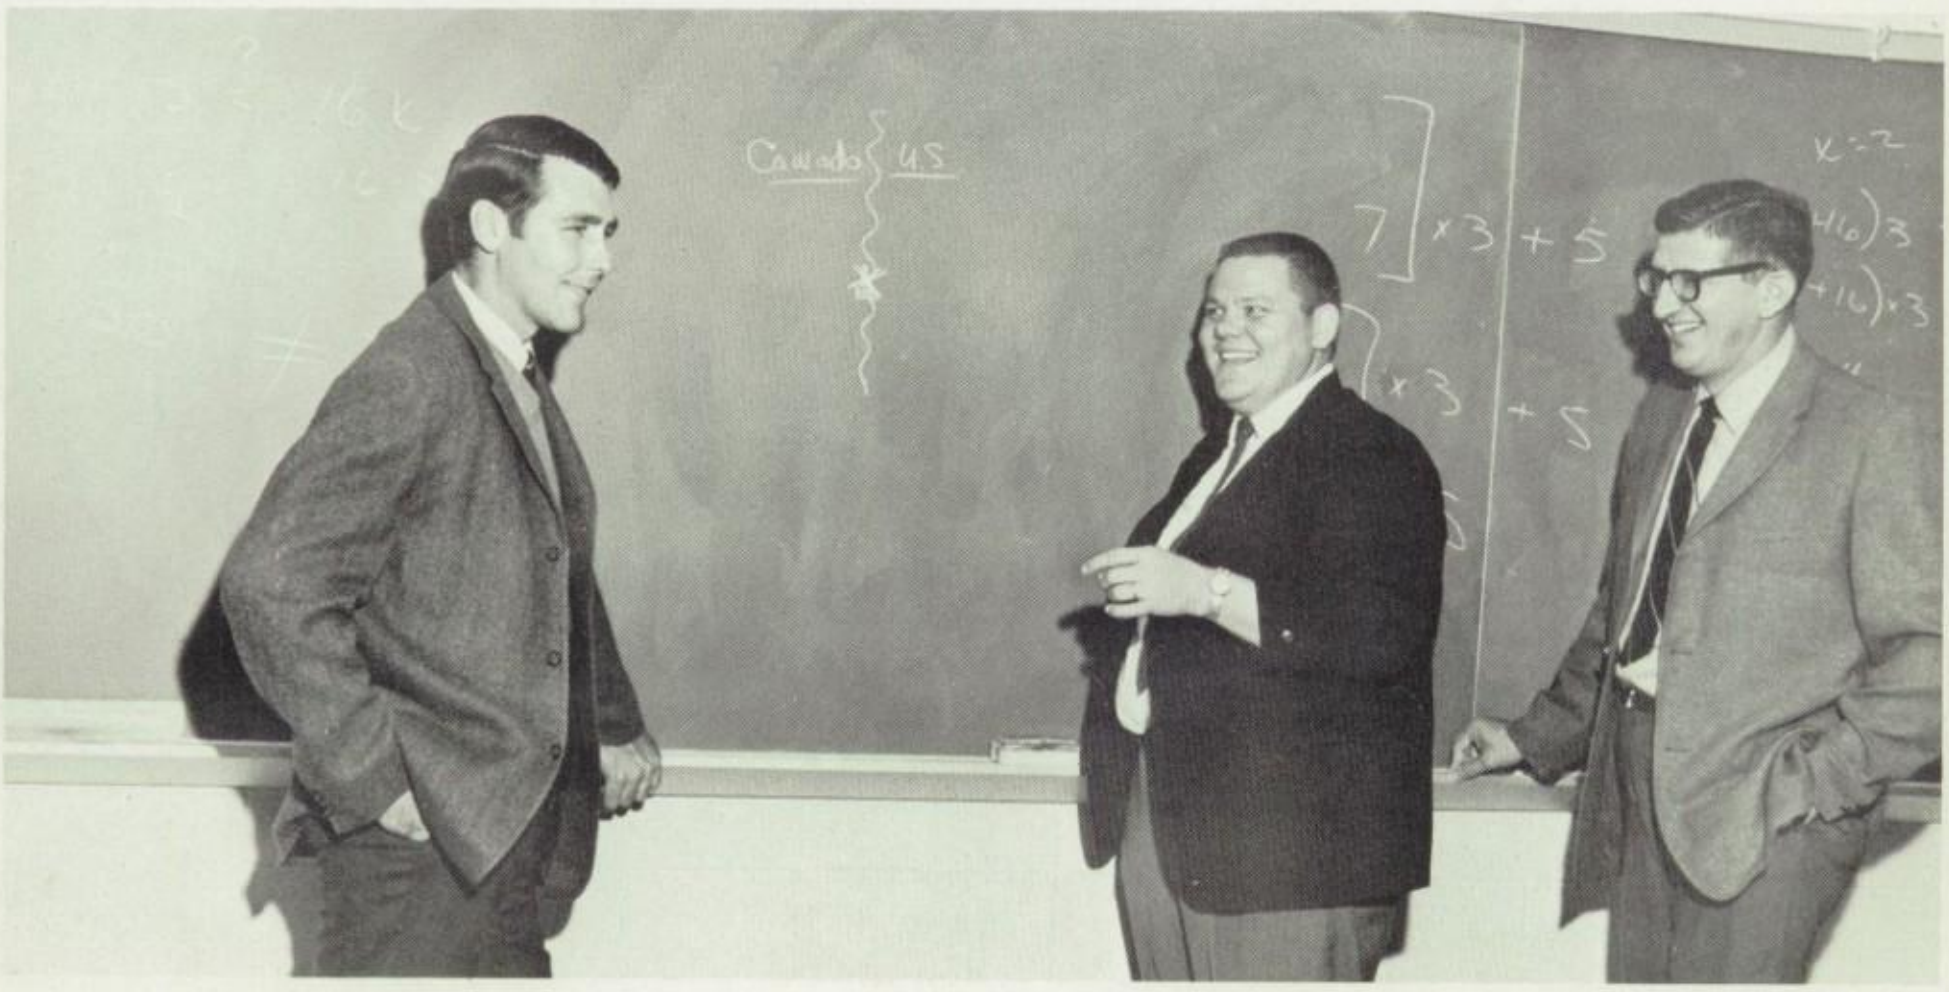
The Science department is devoted to bringing about a better understanding of the complicated world around us. Very enthusiastic teachers staffed the department this year. With many students using the Science Resource Center to increase their potential, the Science Department once again provided a good background for the future.

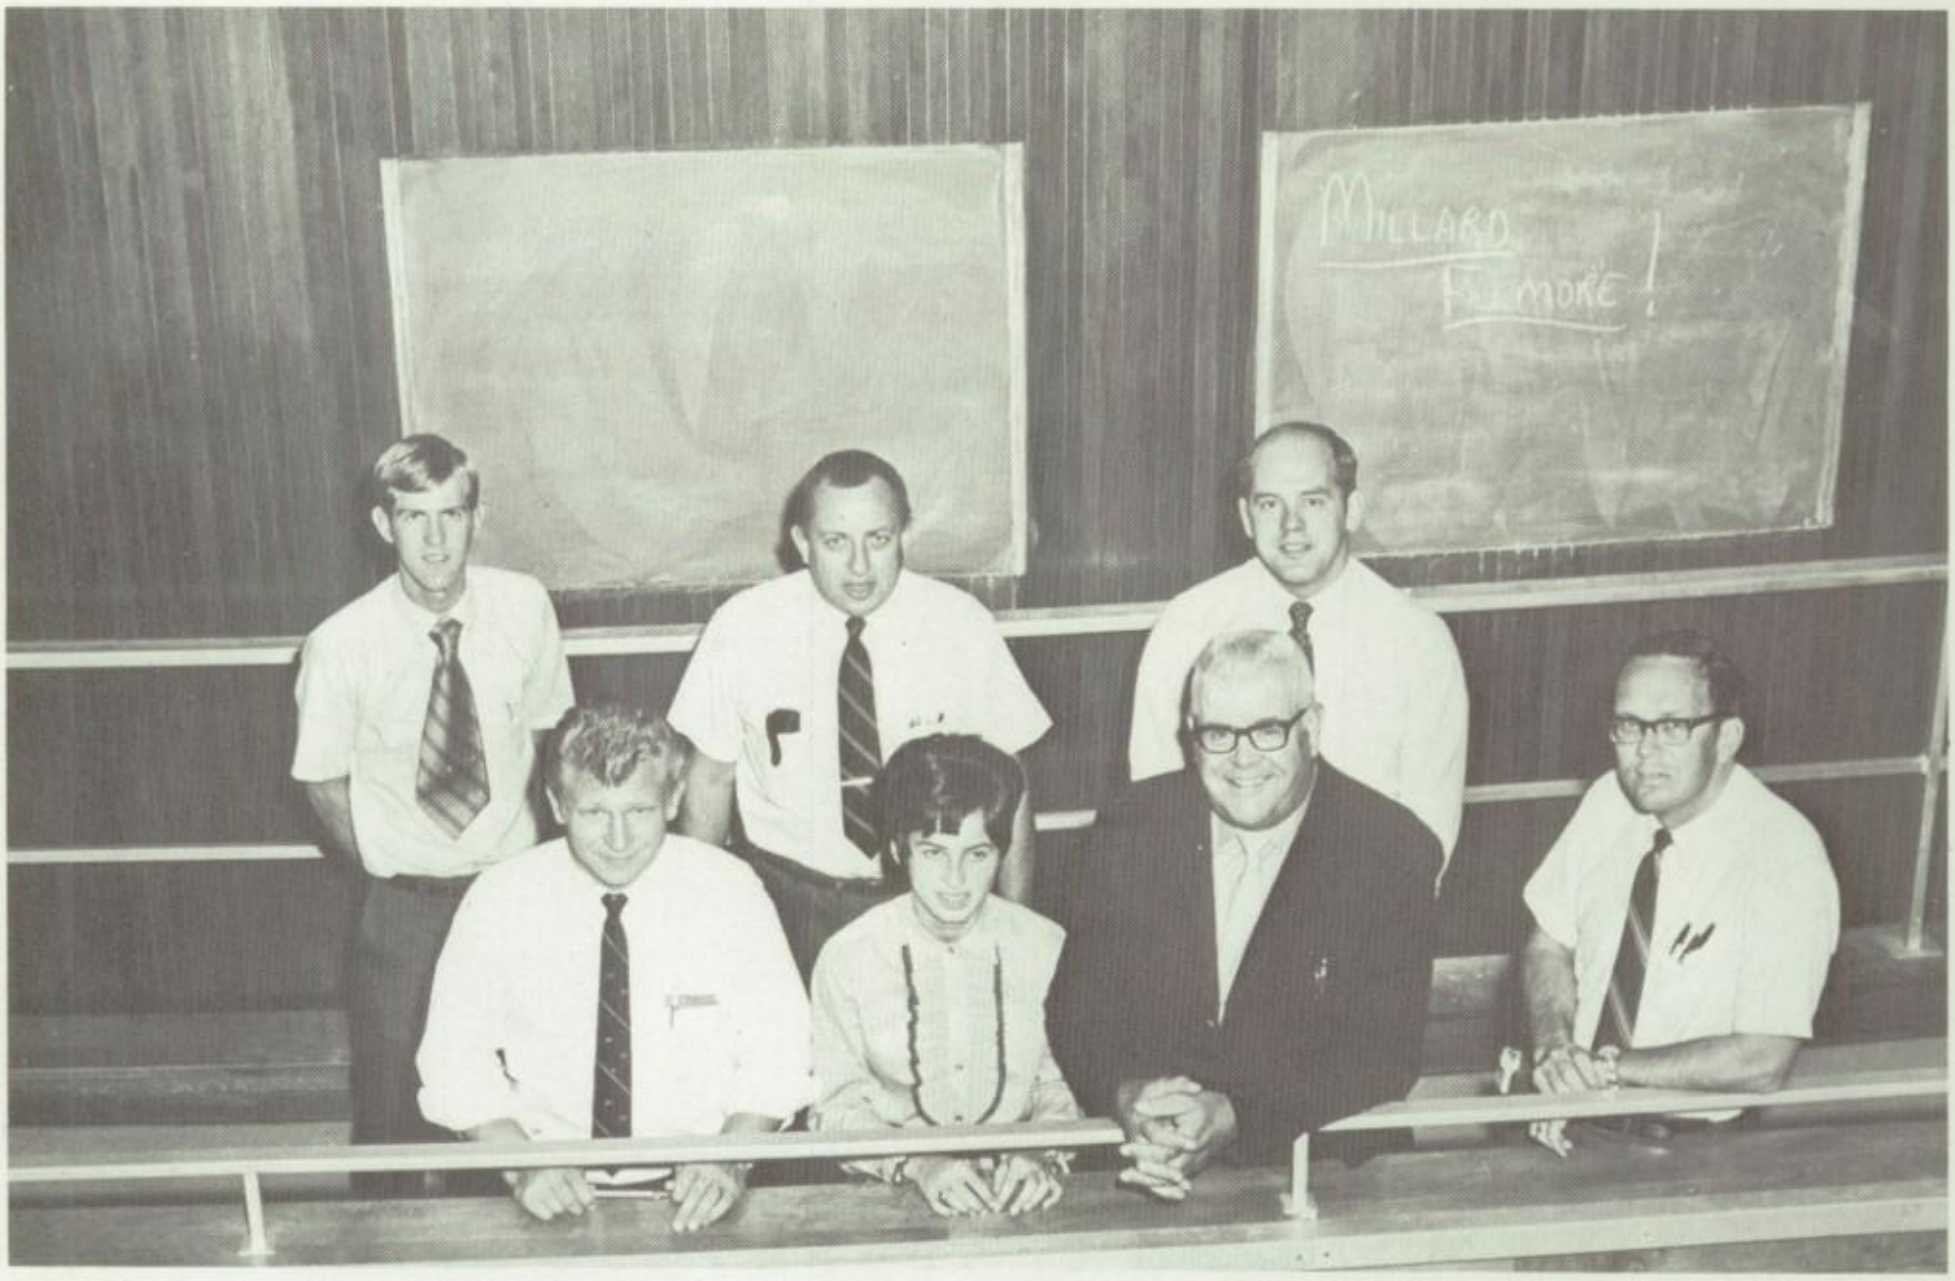
Arithmetic, Math, Calculus—whatever you want to call it, it was here at EHS. The dedicated Math teachers helped students to learn the basics of Algebra, the fundamentals of Geometry, and the challenges of Advanced Math. Through these learning experiences, students developed a sense of accomplishment.

YOU HAVE A VERY GOOD SEAT!
SO DOES HE! CG

Have fun this summer. Larry Gray

MATH DEPARTMENT: DEAN WILSON, RICHARD PRICE, DONALD WOLF.





HISTORY DEPARTMENT: ROW 1: JOHN GIBOWSKI, JOYCE MATHEWS, ORVILLE FINDRENG, CHARLES STATZ. ROW 2: GARY LEWIS, NEIL THIELEKE, PAUL YANKE.

Knowledge of the past helps us to better understand the problems of today. Without our Social Studies Department, we would be lost in the difficulties facing us. But through the eyes of history we can attempt to see why our world is in its present state. With the help of these teachers, it may be possible for us to reach our goals, so that fifty years from now history will tell of a world of peace and harmony. Through an expanded curriculum the department accomplished its purpose.

BUSINESS EDUCATION DEPARTMENT: GRACE NEWMAN, MARGUERITE FREEMAN, LINDA BEHRENS.

Students working toward the future by learning new and helpful skills, find typing, shorthand, and many other business related courses helpful. The Business Education Department realizes the need for courses which help prepare a student for his adult life. It is through these courses that many students find an interest for their career.

Sewing and cooking are only a few of many courses offered by the Home Economics Department. Family relationships and living are important to most students. It is a goal of Home Economics to enable students to understand themselves, and therefore succeed in life. Home Economics is open to all girls and Senior boys. It helps prepare students to be able to do those tasks which are vital in their future roles as homemakers and home-owners.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT: SANDRA HAZELTON, JUDY BEUCHEL.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT: FRED SUCHY, JO ANN SCHAFFER.

While it is the purpose of other departments in EHS to coordinate the minds of Elkhorn students, it is the purpose of the Physical Education Department to fully coordinate the bodies of the students. For the first time, Juniors and Seniors were not required to take Phy. Ed. Many however, elected to take the class in order to achieve a physical well being.

Right turn, left turn, Y-turn, park; these are all sounds of the Driver's Education Department. The first nine weeks of the course is taught in the classroom and the basic fundamentals of driving are learned. Progression is finally made to behind-the-wheel training. Many students anxiously await their turn for this part of the course. The purpose of Driver's Education is to help develop responsible drivers, and its efforts are truly important.

DRIVER'S EDUCATION DEPARTMENT: JAMES FISHER.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT: MARSHALL PAULSON, JAY SILVERNAIL. NOT PRESENT, BRIAN COTTERMAN.

The industrial arts department works each year to help the students of EHS to increase their knowledge concerning mechanics and many other related courses. Drafting, Woodworking, and Plastics are but a few of the specialized courses offered by this department. After learning the basic skills at EHS, many students have gone on to better jobs and more study in specific areas.

Students enrolled in the agriculture courses attain knowledge and perception in the occupation of farming. Many students use the skills they have learned in agricultural related fields. The agriculture department seeks to instill an interest in the opportunities agriculture offers.

AGRICULTURE INSTRUCTOR: HAROLD STRASSBURG.

Richard,

Thanks for everything this year. I'm glad I didn't stay in Physics. Too much pressure on my tender "little" brain. I'm scraping bottom in math. Yuck!

I wish I could get my Tarot cards & Duane's pictures out of your house some how. There's other stuff of his I want too. It's sort of hard though with Deane.

Well never get along (Deane & me) but I'm gonna be around a lot longer than she thinks so she better shape up & get with it.

Good luck next year at Lawrence. I'll be hanging in at good-ole KTI. Bah!

Take care, have fun, & keep smiling

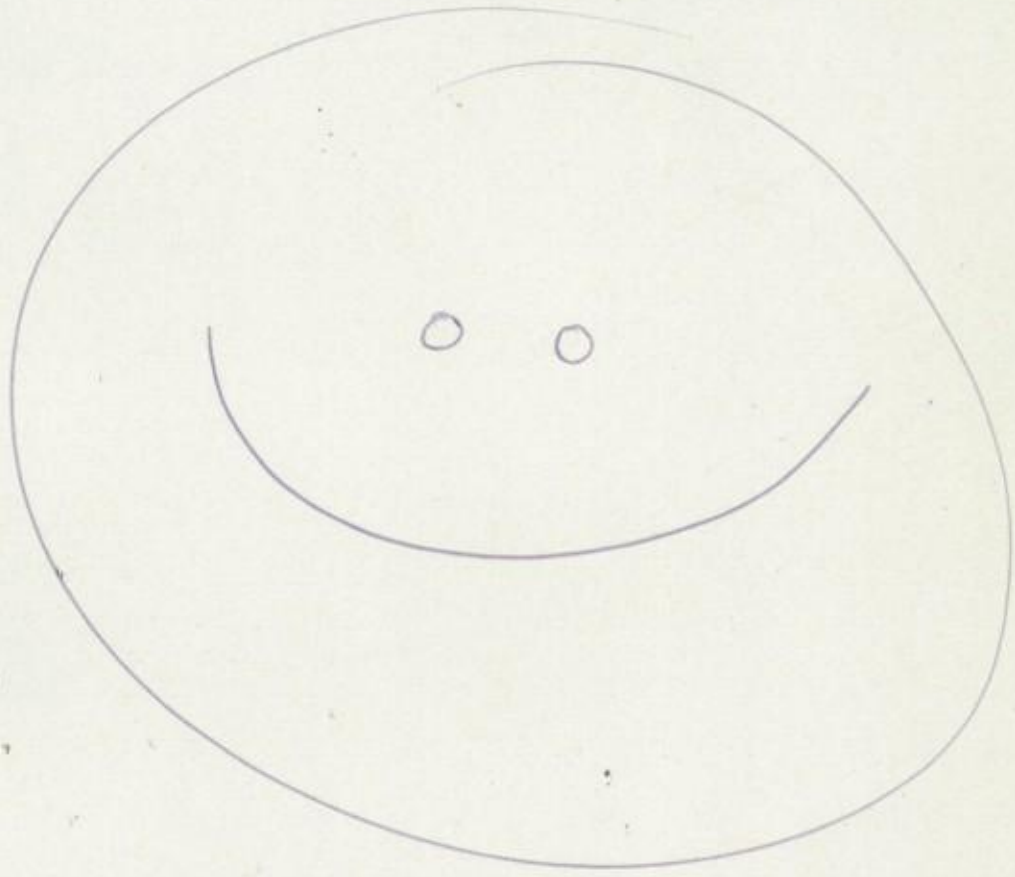
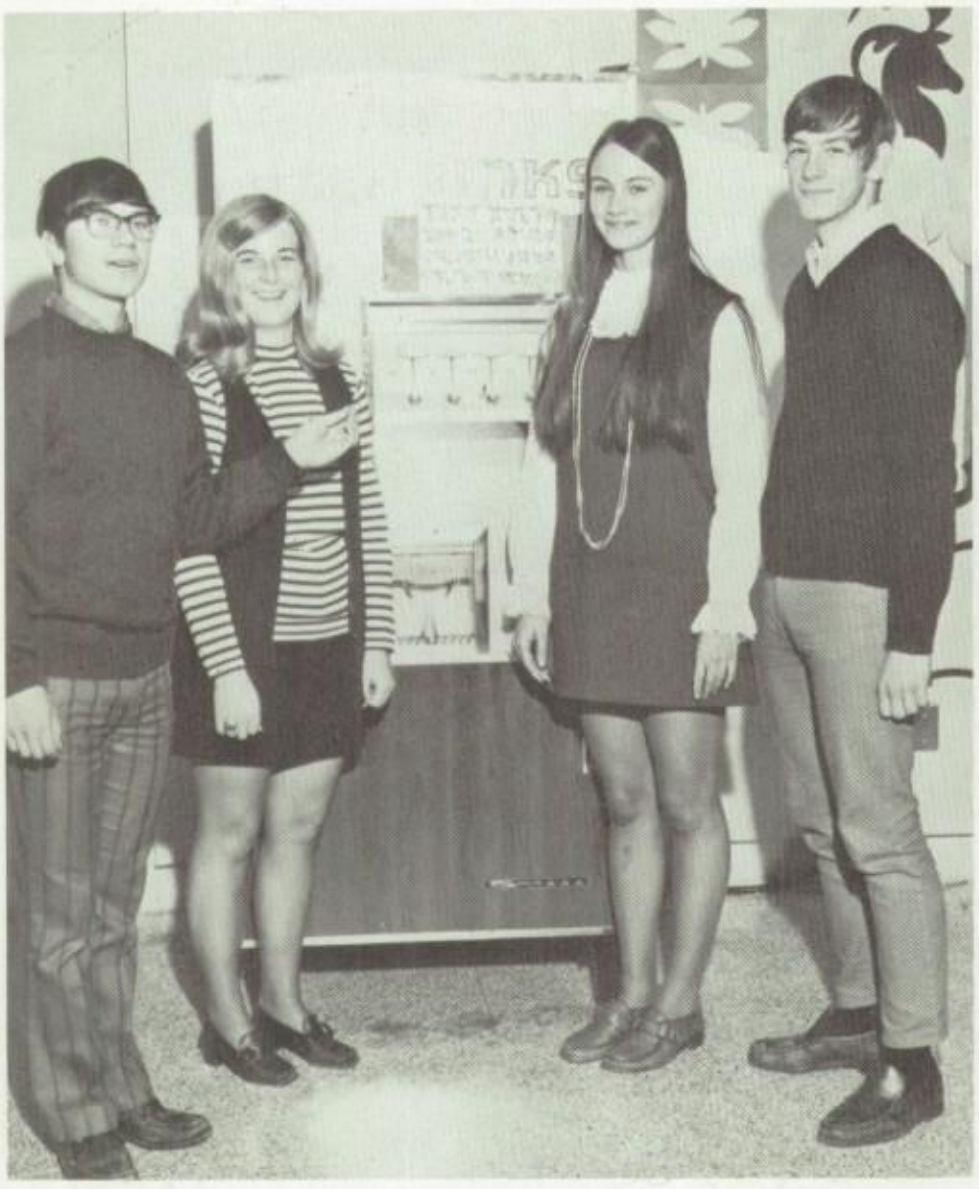
SPIRIT OF INVOLVEMENT





"Resolved to be Involved" was the theme of the 1970-71 Student Council. The organization, representing the voice of students, is exemplary of student government in the school system. Five representatives of each class and the two foreign exchange students comprise the membership.

Meetings were held throughout the school year and summer to plan and coordinate school activities. The Student Council undertook many worthwhile events and put them into effect. Some of these included: Homecoming activities, Spirit Week, Parents Night, Play Day, Talent Show, Spirit Cup, and the installation of a pop machine.

In the best traditions of democracy, this years council had a rewarding year as they achieved their goals.

The Art Club is basically constituted by students either taking Art courses or others who are interested in the various fields of Art. This year the Art Club planned many excursions to museums, art shows, and exhibits. Because there were many students who showed an interest in the club, but were not members, the officers tried to keep the entire school aware of the various activities which were open to them and related to the club.

ECOLOGY: STUDENT CONCERN

Conservation

This was the first year for the Conservation Club, and a great year it was! The purpose of the Conservation Club is to increase its members knowledge of Ecology and Conservation. Working to better their environment, the members of the club began the difficult task of improving the world. While they began on only a small scale, the knowledge they acquired will aid them in the fight against pollution. The club is mainly composed of students enrolled in the conservation classes, although it is open to all persons who desire to take action against the unlawful destruction of natural resources.

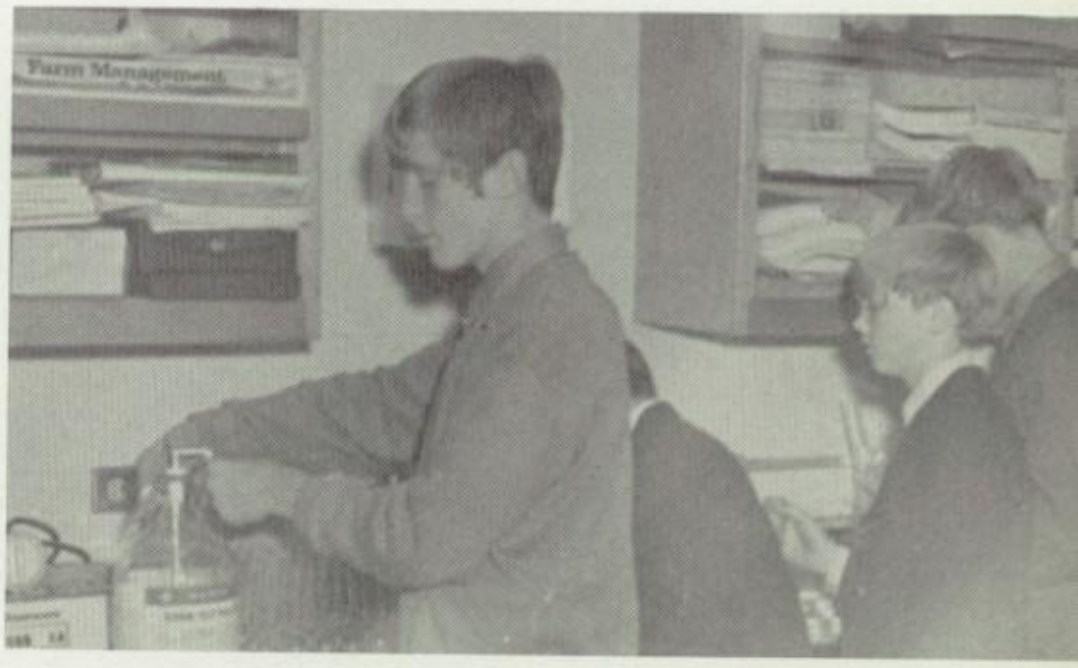
WISCONSIN JUNIOR DAIRYMEN ASSOCIATION

Elkhorn's Junior Dairymen recorded the production analysis of their home dairy herds. This was a year-round project, and the records were used to improve their home herd. WJDA work was done on local and district levels. Awards were presented at a spring parent's night.



The Future Homemakers of America again completed a very successful year. Under the guidance of an excellent slate of officers and an enthusiastic advisor, the organization offered many worth-while activities. The members worked hard to fulfill the new purposes established at the national convention. They did many things to enrich their lives as well as the lives of others.

SPORTS FOR GIRLS

The Letterman's Club forms a social alliance among high school boys who have earned a major letter in inter-school sports. As well as providing a social encounter beneficial to the moral stature of an athlete, the clubs goal is to direct the enthusiasm of the members into various community projects. This year its members sold "ELK" stadium cushions as a fund-raising project and also scheduled a professional all-girl basketball team to play at the school.

The Girls Athletic Association met weekly at the high school gymnasium. Its purpose was to provide opportunities for participation in athletic competition and to develop sportsmanship. This was done not only on the local level but with other schools as well. The sports this year included volleyball, basketball, badminton, and softball. The girls earned awards in the form of pins and letters on the basis of attendance, participation and leadership.

WE'VE GOT SPIRIT!

The Pep Club once again carried out many fine services to the school. Making signs for games, decorating the field at homecoming, sponsoring mixers, and selling pins and penants all helped promote school spirit.

Without the Pep Club it would be impossible for the spirit of EHS to remain at its current plateau of perfection.

Living is learning. Learning to accept other cultures; learning to enjoy other customs; learning to give part of our time to foreign visitors; and most of all, learning to share our lives with people of all kinds. These are a few among many goals of the American Field Service. Improving human relations is important throughout the world, and AFS attempted to spread it farther and faster. Helping achieve success for this goal were Fellipe Marana of Spain, and Phillipe Guige of France. These young people helped to create an everlasting bond of friendship between our people and their people. Elkhorn sent Lynn Thoms to be our ambassador of friendship in New Zealand. Young people of every nation are traveling through the world, creating good will everywhere. Some day unity will be realized, and AFS will have played a part in attaining it. As in the past, many school organizations contributed to the AFS fund and the students worked closely with the adult chapter. The main money making projects were selling ice cream during lunch hour and a fall candy sale.

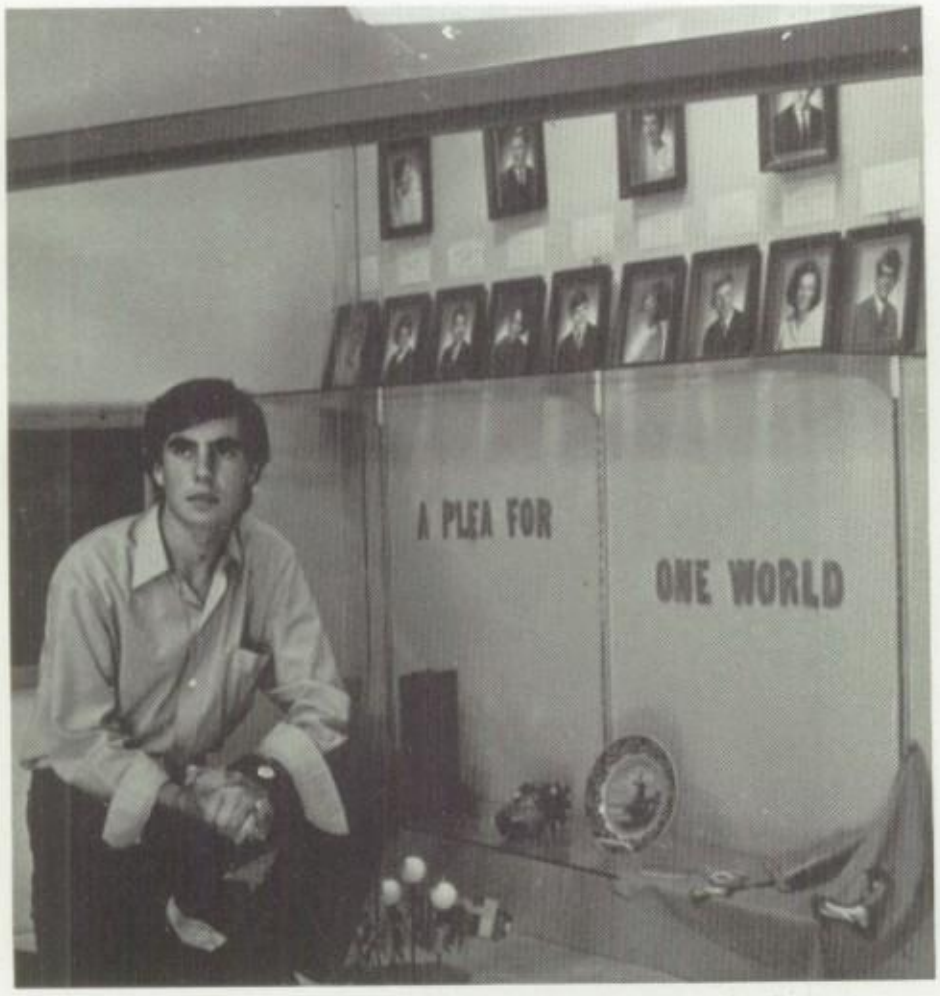
STUDENTS IN A



Felipe Marana spent his year in Elkhorn with the John Corcoran family.

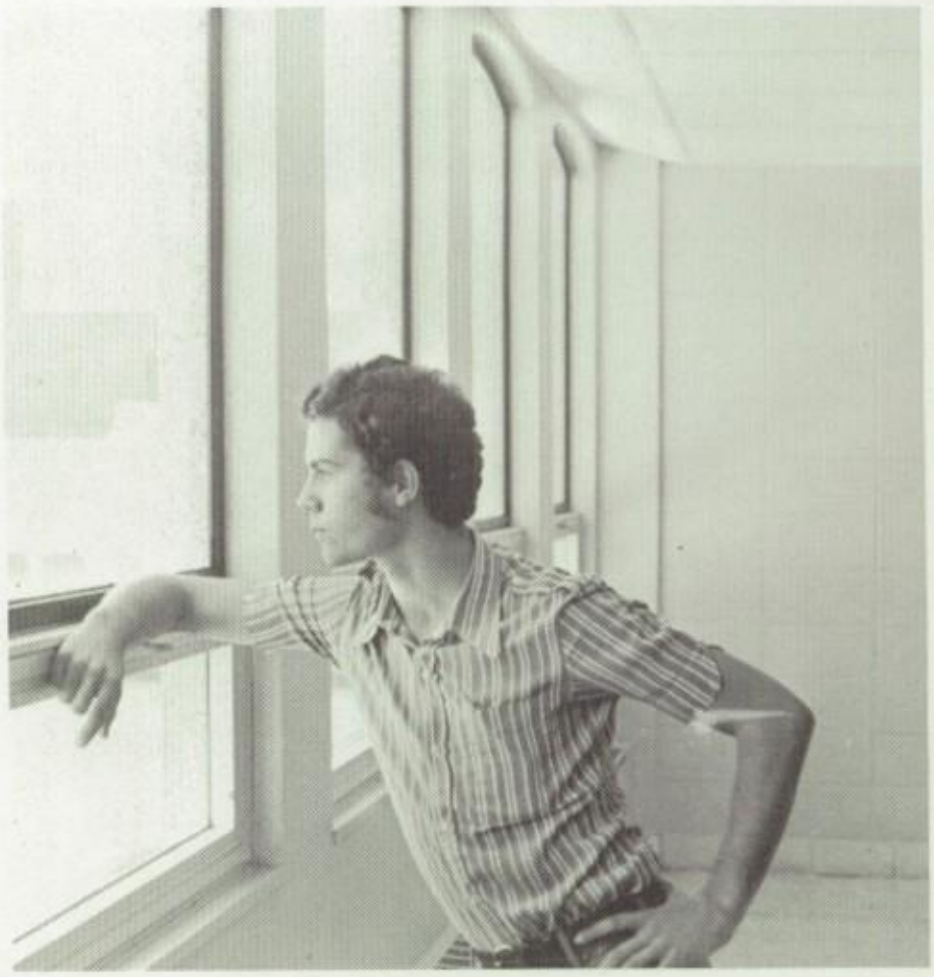
Dear Students,

"To express in a paragraph all the feeling which I must have with everyone of you for my life here during this year, would be just as difficult as to try to repeat the miracle of St. Augustine in the 20th century. Thanks to everyone for all the fun times I have had with you and don't forget that in Spain, you have a friend.

Other AFS students will come back and at that time the same expression of friendship and peace between the people will be realized. I have done my part with you and I think that I have understood you. Now, only I have to say: Thanks . . . thanks for all and I will see you."

Your Friend,
Felipe Marana

Philippe Guigue spent his AFS year with the Robert Colvin family.



Dear Students,

"It was so good to stay here in Elkhorn for all the year and to have such good friends and to meet so many nice people. I enjoyed myself all the year round. I want to thank you for your kindness and to say to you—good bye."

Your Friend,
Philippe Guigue

FOREIGN LAND

Haire Mai!

Greetings from New Zealand in the traditional Maori words of friendship. I have traveled 8000 miles away from home to a different country, not just to learn these words, but to learn to live them. As I write this I am nearing the end of my year on my AFS family's (the Hendersons' of Balclutha) sheep farm in the South Island.

For me, AFS has provided a year of untold wealth. Not only have I friends in many places all over New Zealand, but I have friends from nearly every state of my own country as well. I have also gained much personally. My experience has taught me tolerance and respect for others' ways, it has helped me to view my own country through opened eyes, and most of all it has shown me the importance of the principles of AFS. Never before had I fully realized the truth of the statement that understanding between individuals is the first step to a real and lasting world peace. The contacts that AFS brings about between peoples of all nations is helping this cause. I have seen its strength at work as stagnant ideals created by the lack of well balanced news were changed merely by the acknowledgment of my words and a friendly smile.

To me this is proof enough that if even just a little is gained by one, much can be accomplished through the continuance of others. I say an unending thanks to AFS—but maybe we all should.

AFS'erly yours,
Lynn

Richard
I hope life at college treats you well and that happiness and contentment may be yours in everything you strive to achieve. Rich, you've got a fine mind and a nice personality. I'm sure you will find life rewarding. Keep well - peace,
Lynn

Speeches are rewritten many times before everyone is satisfied.

Forensics, the art of public speaking, is another one of the outstanding extracurricular activities at EHS.

Under the direction of Mrs. Pat Wrezesinski, and the other members of the English department, the team spent a very worthwhile season gaining much experience in speaking.

The season began in late February and lasted through the spring months. It ended in April when a number of EHS students made a good showing at the State contest in Madison.

The National Honor Society is composed of a select 5% of the Juniors and Seniors. Members are chosen by the faculty on the basis of scholastic ability, leadership qualities, and participation in school and community events. The Elkhorn Kiwanis sponsored a banquet in the spring to end the year for NHS.

Here's His beautiful Head.

The Elk Horn in its third year of publication completed another very successful series of papers.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Marilyn Fischer, adviser, the students on the staff produced many papers enjoyed by the students, parents, and the administration.

Knowledge of many journalism techniques was gained, making it a valuable experience for all involved.

Dear Rich,
you do know my back is worse than my bite, don't you? !!! What can I say to you except a very sincere Thank You and a very sincere Good Luck to you for your future. Do know you will succeed in what you set out to do. Remember forever THE ELK HORN. Sincerely, M.M. Fischer

The members of the 1971 Yearbook Staff, put in many hours of free time and hard work in order that students might keep with them memories of high school years. Along with the valuable assistance of Mrs. Linda Behrens and capable editors Terry O'Connor and Jane Lauderdale, the staff put together the 1971 Elk, portraying student involvement and activities at E.H.S.

The 1971 staff decided to put out the annual in the same manner as the year before. The annuals were distributed in the spring and the students received a supplement the following fall containing the spring activities and graduation ceremonies. The 1971 Elk sales surpassed those of the year before and it is hoped that the staff's efforts will be rewarded by seeing the sales go even higher in the future as a result of satisfaction and appreciation of the 1971 Elk.

The Elkhorn High School Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Orlan Anderson, was another worthwhile organization representing our school this year. Members of the chorus took part in many outside interests as well as in school activities.

Members prepared for Christmas and Spring concerts, and also many participated in the annual Solo and Ensemble Contest—held in the spring.

The Chorus represented the school enthusiastically and successfully by demonstrating their performance abilities and their desire for achievement.

I thought I would write just a few words! Sure has been super-spiff getting to know you this year. I won't even attempt to go into all the stuff we've done together because they always seem so much less important when you write them down. I do remember that one talk we had in the cafeteria before the Whitewater game and all the other little talks we've had throughout the year. And the people at Gilbert Realty will always have a place for you in their hearts— I'm so glad you and Jan hit it off so great - She's one of my very favorite people and she's so happy that you two hit it off and that makes me happy so - we're all happy (not sad) things may have happened to quick for you two but when two people are so alike and meant for each other things like that happen - (AHEM!) But do try to control yourself when you're at the outdoor and such because well I don't know if you or Jan will agree but it does take some of the thrill out of it - But one good thing about it is that it lets people know how important she is to you - which is also very important but there are different ways of showing it - RIGHT? RIGHT! (Not that you aren't doing a good job now but - I'm sorry if any of the spur-of-the moment things I said have ever hurt you - I didn't mean to - I just didn't think - so please forgive me. I'm really going to miss you next yr. Cause well I can't quite explain why - but its just so sad when friends leave each other - but it has to happen if people are ever going to grow - Take care of yourself and George and well you know —

SPIRIT OF PARTICIPATION

(You TRAITOR!) (BUT I FORGIVE YOU - YOU KNOW WHAT'S BEST)

ALL-SCHOOL PLAY:

Smile pretty!

The Elkhorn High School auditorium was turned into a "swanky" apartment in New York, a swinging Southern Mansion, a sultry desert with pyramids, and a shivering snow-covered mountain, when EHS presented the fourth annual ALL-School play, Auntie Mame.

The play deals with a sophisticated New York society woman, Mame Dennis, who suddenly receives the guardianship of her young nephew Pat. It played to capacity audiences for every performance, delighting them each time.

The success of "Auntie Mame" can certainly be attributed to the director, Mr. Wehner, and the producer, Mr. Terrence Thompson. Credit must also be given to the many students who gave their valuable time to make the play a success.

"When I'm calling you oo-oo-oo."

"That sure was nice of you to fill my chair with helium, Mamie."

"AUNTIE MAME"

"What do you mean this isn't a dress rehearsal?"

"Oh, Mr. Obanion hasn't come back yet, I wonder if he's leading me on."

"To the Reindeer!"

The Student Council provided and decorated a tree for the lobby.

DESPITE ADVERSITY,

With a successful season behind them and a good crop of lettermen returning, the Elks were picked as a conference contender and started the season on an optimistic note. The season progressed as expected in the first two games, as Elkhorn battled to a tie with a tough Verona Squad and then knocked off East Troy for their first victory. Unfortunately, a rash of injuries plagued Coach Yanke's ballplayers and the team could not break into the victory column for the rest of the season. The Elks did excel in team spirit and attitude, though, and always gave 100% every game.

Rick Carroll received a tremendous post season honor as he was named to the All-Conference First Team for the second year in a row and was further honored by being chosen Most Valuable Player. Jim Corcoran also received All-Conference recognition along with the Lions Tackling Trophy. Junior Randy Papcke was the only other Elk gaining post season honors as the aggressive back received Honorable Mention All-Conference.

Winning Team Again

The Junior Varsity football team played fine football all year under the direction of coaches Lowell Voskuil and Dean Wilson. The Sophomores chalked up victories in their first three games, then hit a slump tieing a game and losing two, but finished the season on a positive note with two convincing victories.

The Freshman team proved to be the most successful of all as they roared to six straight victories. Coaches Chuck Statz, Dick Price and AL YOUNG not only worked hard in drilling fundamentals into the young football players, but also showed them how to win and have pride in their achievements. The future definitely looks auspicious for Elkhorn football in the coming years.

INDIVIDUAL COMPETITION

The Elks started their wrestling season with a very young team, having only two Seniors and three Juniors and very many underclassmen. Though the team started the season with a loss in a non-conference meet with Jefferson, the members showed tremendous improvement throughout the season, particularly among the younger wrestlers. The team entered two invitational tournaments, placing eighth in the Kenosha Bradford Invitational and seventh in the Wilmot Invitational; and won their last conference meet with Clinton 22-11.

Next year looks promising for the matmen. They have a returning three-year letterman, Mark Olivas, and two-year letterman, Greg Hayes. The team is looking for another good season from underclassmen, Ted Larson, Dan Bromeland, Mark Chess, Scot Bray, Jeff Ganhs, and Rick Jacobsen, all of whom wrestled for the varsity this year. There are many other returning Freshmen and Sophomores who worked hard and improved steadily throughout the season.

The enthusiasm for wrestling has grown the last few years among the students and spectators. The crowds at the meets have increased a great deal and cheerleaders are also present to create more spirit. Everything looks right for next year's team and Coach Gibowski is looking forward to another season with the wrestlers.

A Team To Be Reckoned

Rick Carroll was valuable to the Elks in both scoring and rebounding.

The Elkhorn Elks started the season by dropping two close non-conference games to Beloit Catholic and Kenosha Tremper. Then the Elks jumped to the lead of the Southern Lakes Conference with three straight victories. The Elks had visions of the conference championsip but their hopes were destroyed by four consecutive losses. The Elks then pulled themselves together enough to get back in the conference race.

The Elks are looking for another fine season from returning starters Brian Watson and Pat Burns, who did a fine job playing varsity ball as sophomores. Also the Elks will be strengthened by returning lettermen, Tim Burns and Phil Morrissy.

The J.V. and Frosh basketball teams did not finish high in their perspective races, but they did succeed in thrilling many spectators. The J.V. team was weakened by the loss of two players who were elevated to the Varsity Club, but they still worked hard to pull out some exciting victories. Next year the Varsity will be gaining many fine ball players from this squad.

The Frosh started the season out with a couple of losses but with experience became a real power in their league. Next year these players will make up the nucleus for a fine B Team.

"WE'RE NUMBER ONE"

The Girl's Tennis Team, starting its season in September, had one of its best seasons as it tied for first place with two other schools. Practice was held four nights a week. The girls who were to participate in the match were named on Thursday of each week, when the elimination matches were held. The matches were played on Mondays after school. At the close of the season, the girls were anxious for some sort of play-off match to break the three-way tie, but according to the W.I.A.A. rules, they could only play six matches.

SPIRIT OF BELONGING

The Class of 74 was led by: Scott Bray, President, Wendy Spragia, Treasurer, Mark Skoine, Vice-President, and Stephanie Richards, Secretary.

CLASS OF '74

"Boy, those are weird-looking Freshmen."

The class of 1974 was one of the largest classes ever to come to EHS. Large not only in number, but also in spirit and enthusiasm. The freshmen began their year in an aggressive mood —making a fine showing in all homecoming events. They then went on to capture the majority of the spirit week contests. Only at EHS could any class be as spirited, enthusiastic and proud. This class will surely achieve a new record and set a faster pace for the students of EHS for many years to come.

CLASS OF '73

"Say Peter, why don't we meet after class."

The Class of 73 started off their Sophomore year with a second in Homecoming float competition.

They have contributed greatly to the advancement of High School competition in Sports, Drama and other activities.

The Sophomore Class looks forward to unity in spirit and unselfish accomplishments in the future years at Elkhorn High School.

CLASS OF '72

The arrival of class rings marked the start of an exceptional year for the Class of "72".

The willingness to work together brought forth a first place float and a third place skit during the Homecoming Activities.

The Juniors participated in many school activities, such as athletics, school plays, and scholastics. Everyone anxiously awaited the Junior Prom—held in the spring of 1971.

The Junior Class has spirit, drive, and determination and will carry through these qualities until they bear the title "The Graduating Class of 1972."

The many activities of the Senior class were directed by: Sally Fischer, Treasurer; Curt Grimm, Vice President; Sue Conover, Secretary; and Chuck Dugan, President.

CLASS OF '71

"You'd think now that we're Seniors, we'd be above this sort of thing."

One hundred and fifty students in the Class of 1971 united in their drive for one goal. Through a unified effort they accomplished that goal—everlasting spirit. They were the first class ever to complete four years in the "new" high school. Perhaps the spirit of the new building helped to spur on the class. Winning the spirit cup their Junior year helped them to further prove the intensity of their drive. Always doing well in whatever they attempted, they took first in the Homecoming skits three times. One-Act plays, yelling contests, spirit weeks, no matter what it was, the Class of 1971 always excelled. Now the Senior Class will go on to prove their spirit, while the memory of their accomplishments will remain at EHS.

King Henery,

"There are Gods and Gods, King Henery. Gawds shut me up here to be tried for adultery and treason toward yaw. You're done this because you love elsewhere — and I know it — But now you come here to make sure whether there were truly adultery, because that would touch yaw manhood or yaw pride! And you wait and listen, a cat in a corner, watching the pet mouse before it dies. So then. Keep yaw pride as manhood. Yaw know about me now."

That's the part I skup being stubonped on. I don't remember it — wanted you please. It's been fun Rich, and I have really enjoyed yaw company.

Thank Yaw,

Darlene Pekul

Rich,

I hope we both are successful at our goals in and after college. College should be a new experience, so, Lumps for the help in math and physics.

Good luck.

Rick.

Its so early in the morning I don't know what I want to write. Do you remember way-way back helping me with my Algebra? The "Auntie Mame" cast party was a blast. Even though you were bombed! I think my most memorable H.S. experience was the Senior-one-act. I hope you had as much in that play as I did! I know what ever you do you will succed in!

Best wishes and best of luck always. Your a great friend and a super person. I gotta go to bookkeeping. See ya - September '76

Richard -

Its really hard to know what to write to such an intelligent person, except we made it through physics! And with my A last time at that. But that will never compare to all B your A's. Most of the jokes you told were pretty sick. but I suppose they'll pass. (Kinda like Curtis.) Best of luck always and be good. ☮

Judy K.

Kirk,
Isn't it
terrible to be a Senior because you do everything for the last time as a student.
Remember all those times in the English & Science centers before school started in the morning. Best wishes for the future
I would like to express Vermon and Good Luck in whatever you do in whatever you do
Nancy

"71" is best

Richard -
Some day you have to have to tell ~~of~~ that mother of yours, come to Colorado
this summer & don't get to upset,
lotsa luck Good bye

And so it is with all of the Richard Conover annual. I don't even want to try to make any comments on all the fun times we've had in the Junior High years. I can't even begin to express my appreciation for all the time you've spent helping me with the annual. Thanks a million, Mrs. Conover

P.S. Remember, it's the Hi Plateau Chronicle not marble, so don't take it too granite.
